

Callowie Breakout. Callowie's charity donation

It was fitting in the year the Bordertown based Callowie Poll Merinos donated the $1001 sale average from their ram sale to Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation they should have their highest average in the sale's five year history. Stud principals Richard and Jacquie Halliday made the donation to the organisation dedicated to finding a cure for the type 1 disease, in recognition of their 21-year-old niece Jayne Johnson who passed away in May from complications associated with diabetes.

Long time sale supporter Ben Dunstall, Cove Station from Serviceton on the SA-Victorian border (pictured with Jayne's grandmother Alison Halliday and cousins Angus and Sarah Halliday) received a cap and pin from the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, for putting the most funds into the sale, buying five rams for a $1240 average
